

COURT IMPOSES HEAVY PENALTY

Sentence of A. J. Morro Fixed at Three Years in Utah County Court.

WOMAN IS HELD FOR TRIAL NUMEROUS ORDERS IN PROBATE MATTERS.

(Special to The Herald.)

Provo, July 12.—In the Fourth district court Judge Booth sentenced A. J. Morro, the Salt Lake man convicted of a statutory offense with Mrs. C. H. Moore, also of Salt Lake, to three years in the state prison. Three years is the maximum penalty and it is probably the first time in the history of Judge Booth's career as district judge that he has imposed the extreme penalty. He said to the defendant that the offense appeared to have been shrewdly planned, and was not the result of a momentary impulse. Ten days' stay of execution was given the defendant and the case will probably be appealed.

In the case of Gerald Green, the Payson youth, who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, a sentence of a fine of $50 or 20 days' imprisonment in the county jail was imposed. The motion of defendant's attorneys that he be sentenced only for the offense of a simple assault, on the assertion that this was the only offense charged in the information, was overruled.

Woman Bound Over.

Elizabeth Moore, the woman in the case in which A. J. Morro was sentenced to three years in the state prison, was taken before Justice Noon today and charged with a statutory offense. She waived examination and was held in $500 bail to await the action of the district court. In default of bond she was taken back to the county jail. The complaint was sworn to by James C. Snow, who was one of the officers who made the arrest. Mrs. Moore was apparently self contained but her husband, who was present, was affected to tears.

The following orders have been made: R. S. Hardy vs. Victor Dallin et al.; stricken from the calendar. Howard R. Driggs vs. Pleasant Grove; cause dismissed.

Christopher F. Dixon vs. John W. Merrill; stricken from the calendar.

Town of Mapleton vs. Springfield et al.; plaintiff's motion to set aside the grant for water from Hobbie creek made by the state engineer to J. R. Kelly et al., was argued and taken under advisement.

Isaac N. Whitaker vs. Benjamin Drainage district No. 1; demurrer overruled; thirty days given to answer.

Estate of Paul Gourley, deceased; order of sale of real estate and personal property.

Estate of William Ralphs, deceased; letters of administration issued to James A. Gardner.

M. A. Gray vs. Robert Affleck and M. Badgers; default foreclosure of mortgage granted.

Estate of Johanna M. Peterson, deceased; letters of administration issued to Hermine Peterson.

Estate of William Job Roberts, deceased; petition of R. W. Lewis for letters of administration granted.

W. S. Evans, administrator, vs. James T. Powell; motion for new trial granted.

John L. McKinney vs. George Carson; demurrer to second amended complaint taken under advisement.

Margaret Davis vs. James A. Doudell; motion to dismiss on appeal denied; defendant allowed twenty days to answer.

John Ezekiel Stein of Provo, a native of Russia, was admitted to citizenship.

Estate of John B. Meldrum, deceased; order allowing final account.

Estate of Johanna M. Jensen, deceased; decree terminating life estate.

PLEADED GUILTY.

California Bigamist, Johnson, Sent Up for Seven Years.

San Jose, Cal., July 12.—Christian Johnson, believed to be the notorious bigamist "Madson," was sentenced today by Judge Welch in the superior court here to serve seven years in the state's prison at San Quentin.

When Johnson was arraigned he gave as his true name Christian C. Johnson, and immediately pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy.

His attorney, Jacob S. Meyer of San Francisco, made a plea for leniency.

After sentence had been pronounced Mrs. Tretheway's attorney obtained an order from the court enjoining Johnson from disposing of his diamond ring and other personal affects, pending her suit against him.

COMPREHENSIVE BOOK ON AUTOMOBILE LAW

A valuable book for motorists is Abbott's "Automobile Law," published by the Kelley & Brinkley company, Chicago. It is the first book of its kind ever put out. The book carries the statutes of some of the states, and presents the general principles relating to the law of the road, the use of highways and the like. The author of the work is Judge Twyman O. Abbott. He is a writer on legal subjects of some note.

Mr. Abbott has divided the general principles of the law into sections which give the motorist a clear understanding of his rights and liabilities. The work covers regulations, speed rates, regulations, registration of residents and non-residents and a wide field of other pertinent points. The book, however, fails to give Utah credit for its automobile laws. Under the head of "Utah," Mr. Abbott says that this state has no general motor vehicle law. This is not the case. The Eighth legislative assembly passed laws relating to motor vehicles that cover almost every point possible. The new law has an act for registering and numbering, words and phrases are explained, regulations are defined. There is legislation regarding vehicles in the possession of manufacturers, speed regulations, vehicles owned by non-residents, rule of highway, right of way, authority of local authorities to control, registration of chauffeurs, use of badges and provisions for complaints for violations and penalties.

INJUNCTION GRANTED.

Outcome of Suit of Butterick Company Against Montana Unions.

Helena, Mont., July 12.—There was received here today for filing a copy of the opinion of United States Judge Bean at Portland, in the injunction suit of the Butterick Publishing company of New York against the Anaconda Typographical union and other Montana labor organizations. Judge Bean was sitting in Montana for Judge Hunt. Judge Bean holds that the Montana Federation of Labor is a party to the unlawful "boycott" and the complaint is therefore entitled to injunctive relief against it. He further holds the evidence fails to sustain the charge against the Anaconda Clerks' union. Continuing, it says:

"The exception to that part of the master's report in which he recommends that judgment be awarded against the Anaconda Typographical union and its officers for treble the amount of the damages sustained by the complainant on account of the action of such union will be sustained. This suit will be maintained because of a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law."

MAMMOTH NEWS NOTES.

Mammoth, July 12.—Dr. C. P. Harville returned yesterday from Butte, Mont., accompanied by Mrs. Harville, who went to Salt Lake City last Thursday to meet him. They were also accompanied back to Robinson by Miss Ruff of Bowie, Tex., a friend of Mrs. Harville, who will be their guest at the hospital.

On Saturday morning a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Larson at Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Larson were the young people who were married at the smelter day celebration on July 24 last.

Mammoth is making great preparations for a celebration for the coming season. There will be a voting contest to determine which young lady will represent Utah that day.

Ray Jones, who was recently married to Miss Jennie John of Spanish Fork, is well and favorably known in the Hollow, where he has lived for a number of years. After a short honeymoon in the valley towns of Utah county Mr. and Mrs. Jones will return to Robinson, where they will reside in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Comer expect to leave soon for an extended tour through California. Before returning to Robinson they will visit the exposition at Seattle.

Ray Victor of Burlington, Vt., after a two weeks visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Vivian of Silver City, has returned to his home. His brother, Ernest Vivian, who is visiting in Silver City, will soon return to his home in Denver, not, however, until he visits the fair in Seattle.

THROWS LIGHT ON RUMORS OF DEAL

Denver Railroad Man Tells
Where Harriman and Gould
Have an Understanding.

J. S. Wittcher of Denver, traveling agent for the Central of Georgia railroad, was a Salt Lake visitor yesterday, and he throws some light on the rumors of Harriman's alliance with Gould and the former's having acquired large holdings in the Rio Grande railroad. He says that the rumors are entirely unfounded. He says that Harriman's Southern Pacific railroad will within a short time probably build the long-talked-of branch from Lordsburg, N. M., to Durango, Colo., to make the purchase of the Rio Grande. Mr. Harriman and his associates purchased the Rio Grande Fuel company for $1,200,000 or thereabouts about four years ago. It is reported that surveyors are already at work between Gallup, N. M., and Lordsburg, finding a line from each direction.

"It is in connection with this work, I believe," said Mr. Wittcher, "that the rumors have all started regarding Harriman having acquired an interest in the Rio Grande. A complete understanding with Gould was necessary before Mr. Harriman could go ahead with this construction work, for when his present plans have been carried out he will have a continuous line to the heart of Old Mexico from Chicago and another from Seattle to Old Mexico." Mr. Wittcher says that the Denver & Rio Grande, which is a broad gauge, and which was built at a cost of $1,000,000, figures prominently in the deal between Gould and Harriman. It really furnishes the groundwork for the theory that the two magnates have pooled their Colorado interests.

"It is known that for some time the Southern Pacific has been battling in the courts of New Mexico for a right of way from Farmington to Durango, and the case is now in the territorial court there, to come up shortly for a settlement. In the light of recent developments, it is believed in Denver by parties on the inside, that Harriman and Gould have already settled the matter out of court."

"The Harriman coal fields west of Durango are said to be among the richest in America, and had been wondered why he had delayed so long in developing them. The truth is probably that he made the purchase of the Southern Pacific to extend a branch of the Southern Pacific from Lordsburg to Durango. This was blocked by the Rio Grande building a broad gauge road down to the Farmington valley from Durango, and utilizing the right of way that Harriman expected to get. This was really a very strategic move for Gould to make, as the building of such a road in that territory was, or seemed to be, totally unwarranted."

ENVIABLE RECORD MADE BY SALT LAKE ROUTE

Yesterday morning at 5 o'clock the Salt Lake division of the Salt Lake Route turned over to the next division the last special train carrying a delegation of Elks from the city to the city of Denver. The movement of Elks through Salt Lake was finished. Much credit is due to all of the officers and men of the Salt Lake division of the Salt Lake road, from Division Superintendent H. E. Van Housen down, for the orderly manner in which the trains were handled. There was no confusion in orders. All trains moved promptly when turned over to the road, and the whole movement was handled without any delay or accidents.

During the movement the local force of the road was helped considerably by traffic officials from down the line and from Denver. Nearly every train out of Salt Lake to Los Angeles was accompanied by a member of the Elks from the city. Everything possible was done for the convenience and comfort of the travelers, and the Salt Lake Route has made a record that it will probably reap benefits from for years to come.

Kenneth C. Kerr, district passenger agent, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said: "I want to mention that the work of operating the trains was perfect, and too much credit cannot be given to Division Superintendent Van Housen and his staff of assistants. It could not have been done better. It was a hard job and we are all glad it is over."
